This total body workout is designed to sculpt the entire body.

Bootcamp: A fusion of callisthenic, bodyweight, plyometric, and resistance based exercises designed to blast calories and help you reach your goals. This class addresses strength, flexibility, balance, mindfulness and is designed for all ages and physical abilities.

Pilates Mat: Pilates Mat is a series of exercises that focus on the “powerhouse” or core to develop strength, increase flexibility, improve posture and balance, as well as align the body and mind.

Stretch & Strap: This class will work on developing strength, flexibility, coordination, and muscle balance while challenging your body and mind. The use of stretch straps will be incorporated to safely deepen the stretch and work towards increasing range of motion of the joints. Join us as the instructor skillfully guides you through a full body experience.

Total Body Conditioning: This fun and challenging total body workout will test your own personal level of strength and endurance. This class will constantly keep your body guessing by switching up exercises using a combination of weights, body bars, resistance bands, balls, steps, and other equipment.
